■ Haha, not like that.
Thank you so much for deciding to read my stuff now!

■ First off, a little explanation about the cover:
A few days ago when I was on my way home
From buying school, there was a high school girl in front of me with lovely black tight tights on.
They were just right, not too tight or too loose, and I could clearly see the color of her skin beneath them...
I just really liked how they looked, so I started thinking so myself I wonder about that?" and then actually drew it.
However, I've never really drawn tight tights before, so it took a lot of work! And a lot of time... but it was fun! Hurray!
Gotta show off some of skin in the summer are great too, but gahh-bundled up for winter is just... so... lovely, don't you think?

■ Second, I made this two-page spread focused on
You know, the last time I drew
I was very ill and had to sit, but they're under a heater, I have my ketteles.
I had a small lecture up until just recently too, but I had to throw it out because the heater was making all kinds of weird noises...
I kind of liked it now.

Anyways, that's what I was thinking of when I drew this. You know? makes no sense.

■ Um yeah, the title of this spread is "Bluetan".
I went with that title because I didn't really have a plan for what to draw when I was making it.
A plan probably would've helped...

■ Wow there, it's maybe short, but I hope you enjoy this chapter all the way to the end~

She's laying on top of my hair... can't move...

I hate being close to her like this though.

After thinking out that the in-ear headphones
I been using for a while now were lacking value to people around me, I went out and upgraded on a new pair, which you can see here.
Now, they have finally worth it!
When I first got them I thought, 'isn't it great?
How this sounds good?' They sounded as much better than other earphones like me who left public school sound quality was bad.
They're pretty expensive, and everyone has their own problems, but the sound is 100% worth the cost of them, but I take money for that. Kind of it is giving off the sound you have right now an approval!

Sound Isolating Earphones

Anyways when I was thinking of changing my headphones, I thought to
"I have to at least make it worth the price actually my first pair Hedison M100. So I got them myself in and now the price is The first time wasn't good but I still 4...

The second time
I thought, and I have definitely thought over enough times of buying better quality. It is music, but there are big I heard out in other earphones as well.
I want it to the highest point after that,
so I'm probably like my dad same now.
The newest one is the sound that one can make it keep using it for sure (I just tell you)

■ My character is MH3rd, unspouse, looks something like what you see over to the right.
I can't seem to find the time to play with all the end of the year stuff going on... Maaaaaa...
My HK is still 2. I'm slowly getting through the village though.

■ By the way, I'm currently using Jigg Armor for hunting.
It's been pretty easy to make, and it's super handy, so I think I'll just keep on using it for now!
Also, it's just me, or does the game feel easier than the other ones?
I know, I was able to beat the Nergig in the low level village. I've tried with just my Jigg armor. I hope I can clear all the low levels like that...
Ah, but I want to make some anti-Giga armor too...

■ Also, there's something called "You Hop Parties".
I think that's where the outfit is based on the PS3.
You can use it to play against people online, and I wanted to give it a shot, but the pretty much had to turn it off, so I think I won't after all. Baff.
I do kind of want to try it at least once though...

A MonHun Newbie

■ I named my companion Ineed on a new custard-vanilla yogurt I found that I totally use Shinkai Asurina Pudding! :D Hence the mon those companions have. I'm using names: Gaudine, Ineed, and Yoko. However, right after I grabbed my companion, the local store I've been buying the yogurt from exploded attacking it, and now I can't eat it anymore... Baff in me...
Also, my favorite items are Puddler and Chiboset. I took their names from Haagen-Dazs Puddles. Puddler is super duper good! It's really good though, so I recommend splitting it up into 2 or 3 parts and eating it that way.
I've even got a good cover to keep it fresh! Just, huff! Dan isn't about MonHun anymore...

■ I heard that you could pick your companion's name and change their armor before the game starts on solo. I'm not very excited about it at first, but when I did it on solo, it was so awesome! They're so cute. squeee I'm currently acting like some doting parent over them, going like, "My kids are the cutest things everrrrr!"

■ Once things settle down after New Years, I'll most likely do a 3 day flight trip to a hot spring and play MonHun all day. I'll get in the water, do some hunting, eat a few snacks, and then get back in the water to do it all over again!
Also, I'll...
Ah wait, and then hunt, and then hunt, and then... I've got to go to the higher ranks as fast as I can!

MONSTER HUNTER PORTABLE 3RD

■ sorry for doing yet another two page spread.
I don't get to show pictures that big very often, so when I do get the chance I like to use it. But I just kind of, you know...
I mean, draw it for me, but I think we have helping people used to that style would enjoy these bigger, more exciting pages.
What do you think...? Is it good?

■ Anyways, let me explain that confusing drawing at H:
It most certainly is quite the confusing image, is it not?
Everyone says it's a rooster and house of chicken around Christmas time, right?
Hence I started thinking, "Wonder what's happen if a bunch of chickens were all let loose at once on the 24th and the 25th..."
Also, it's really only Japan that eat so much chicken for Christmas, right?
Which would mean... Japanese girls would be eating a lot of chicken the three you have here. That's why my inspiration for this drawing was, well, I got quite the wild imagination, if I do say so myself.

■ That also got me thinking that since chickens can't fly, it'd be nice to at least let one be flying in a drawing. Hence, I drew them floating around here.
The drawing of mice is an inclusion.
Drawing all these chickens almost evoked it to me like this year is the year of the bird. I know it's the year of the rooster though.

■ Almond

All almond I planned on making her a model without big should,
but in created eye shadowing bottom line up it...

■ Influences! I have influences with big teeth in my teeth, I tried to copy mostly gratified and want to keep on copying her expression
I just really like her thinking about

Sorry,

uniform today?

Hey here, by the way...

That must be a pretty big load of laundry.

I thought it'd be easier to stay calm if Minami was in her usual uniform.

It's embarrassing if I'm the only one in a uniform... so I...

L... I went and... washed all my other clothes, and...

Wow!

How many people are...

We might not make it in time for the...

There's many people here...

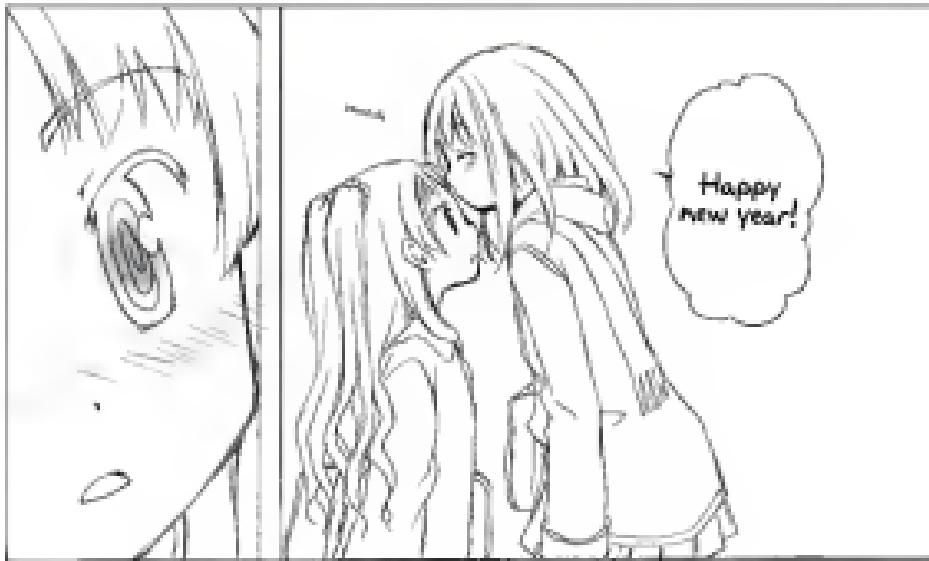

What is this?
